CROWNING A KING

Hoffman Estates, Ill. (February 26, 2010)

– Gloria Katz, membership director of the Hoffman Estates Chamber of Commerce, and her grandson Mitchell Bartgen, of Schaumburg, crown Streamwood resident Dean Cochran, a short-term orthopedic resident at Alden Poplar Creek Rehabilitation and Health Care Center,

King of St. Valentine's Day. Twelve-year-old Mitchell, who attends Aldrin School in Schaumburg, must complete 13 good deeds before his upcoming Bar Mitzvah in November 2010. The Valentine's Day celebration at Alden Poplar Creek was his first good deed of the 13 to be completed.

"I am happy my good deed could bring a smile to so many Alden residents," says Bartgen.

"This annual event is always a big hit with our rehabilitation and long-term residents at Alden Poplar Creek," says Jeff Russell, administrator. "I am glad that Mitchell could help us make our residents smile."

Alden Poplar Creek Rehabilitation and Health Care Center, is located at 1545 Barrington Rd. in Hoffman Estates. To learn more about Alden Poplar Creek Rehabilitation and Health Care Center, visit the website at www.aldenpoplarcreek.com.
